Don't Miss This Rare and Unique Opportunity With One of The World's Leading Experts on Brown Bears!

LaVern Beier is a Wildlife Research Technician for the Alaska Department of Fish & Game Division of Wildlife Conservation. His work with Alaska Department of Fish & Game spans back to 1973 beginning in Petersburg Alaska.

In this time period he has teamed up with wildlife scientists and ecologists participating in a variety of wildlife research projects on many of the major islands and mainland in the temperate rainforests of Southeast Alaska. These wildlife research projects have included the safe live capture, immobilizing and radio collaring and tracking of Sitka black-tailed deer, wolf, mountain goats, wolverine, elk, black and brown bears.

Despite his knowledge and experience with a variety of wildlife species, from 1981 to the present, LaVern has evolved primarily as a brown bear expert.

In his career LaVern has amassed over 1000 bear captures in the rainforests of Southeast Alaska.
